Film Features.

Crandall's.

At Crandall's Theater yesterday th photoplay feature presented Annette Kellermann in "Neptune's Daughter," in seven parts. The beauty of the story, the enchanting scenes about the Ber and submarine grottoes and the wide Atlantic make an original and diverting fantasy of the sea. Miss Keller mann, besides aquatic feats, displays her ablity as an actress, an accomplished dancer and an expert swordswoman. A company of 200 players is seen in her support. "Neptune's Daughter" is the feature attraction again today. Green's orchestra plays appropriate music.

Garden.

Moore's Garden Theater had for its principal photoplay attraction yester-"The Lone Star Rush," adapted from the novel by Edmund Mitchell. It a tale of the Australian gold field, and treats of man's inhumanity to man and treats of man's inhumanity to man in the mad quest for gold, of the marvelous influence of a woman's love and the strength of a noble friendship. Today and tomorrow Katherine Countiss and Lionel Barrymore will be seen in the photoplay of C. Haddon Chambers' powerful drama "A Modern Magdalen." The auxiliary attractions include Keystone farce comedies, travel views, the topical daily and musical accompaniments by the orchestra.

Strand

Robert Edeson was seen in the photoplay feature, "The Absentee," Moore's Strand Theater yesterday in the role of a young American, who, having accumulated a large fortune by reason of hard work, devoted his life bettering the condition of his fellow-men and scatters goodness and happiness in his wake. For today only Mme. Sarah Bernhardt is shown in the big photoplay "The Romance of an Actress," depicting the tragic career of Adrienne Lecouvre, who captivated the heart of Louis XIV of France. Supplementary features include comedy and dramatic films, the topical review and musical accompaniments by the orchestra.
